MESSAGE FROM COPE'S PRESIDENT

As we come to the end of 2020, we are still driven by a deadly pandemic and it seems there is danger and chaos wherever we look. Talk of a vaccine gives us hope, but will we be able to get one? And when? We are also struggling with both information overload and good information attrition? What is really going on? With anything? Perhaps I have included too many question marks, but I do think they capture much of the uncertainty that surrounds us.

COPE is operating at full speed: virtual access has meant we have had more meetings, more enrollment, more groups, more workshops, and more connections to those working on behalf of bereaved families. While budgets are always a pesky problem, it seems that COPE has grown in scope and numbers. Federal grants and loans have supported us and given us hope even when we had to cancel all our fundraising events. You will see, in this report, the number of workshops and programs we were able to offer, the partnerships, locally, regionally and nationally, that we established, and an excitement that grew from our shared fear to our enthusiastic hope.

But writing this note for COPE's 2020 annual report is tricky, because it is now June 21, 2021, a time warp quite common in annual reports. After all, by necessity, they are written well into the following year when organizations can evaluate their previous year's efforts. So, I can now say that families are seeing each other again, friends are meeting for visits outside, and some even indoors, and schools and camps, while always focused on safety, are dusting themselves off and starting up again. Many of us, while still cautious, are once again embracing parts of our lives that have been on hold for a very long time.

Quickly changing Covid-19 guidelines meant that we were able to have our biggest fundraiser; our annual Golf Outing, held this year at the Glen Head Country Club. COPE's supporters were amazingly generous and this gives us hope that we will be able to provide the care to the bereaved families living with the loss of a child that is at the heart of our organization.

We have had to do a lot of belt tightening this past year and look forward to hiring new staff, introducing even more programs, and combining the best of real life and virtual programming so that all our families can stay connected during their most difficult times.

To our families, our staff leadership, our volunteer board and supporters, I can only say thank you. For those whose lives have been upended, for whom Covid-19 brought the tragic loss of people in our lives, and perhaps irrecoverable hardship, you have my deepest sympathy.

Wishing you all a very safe, healthy and loving 2021, and may we all find some of the joy and hope that we all lost a little bit of this past year.

My best,

Sandra R. Wolkoff, PhD., LCSW-R
Board President, COPE Foundation

2020 HIGHLIGHTS

COPE offers many opportunities for grieving families to meet, talk, learn and heal. The core of our programs focuses on support groups where our families meet regularly in professionally facilitated groups, and workshops that address the unique needs of bereaved parents and families.

Support Groups, Workshops and Family Gatherings:

- Nearly 180 adults participated in COPE group support during the year, safely and securely online through telehealth.
- Our team of licensed professionals facilitated ten parent groups for the loss of a child, two adult sibling loss groups and one teen support group.
- 25 healing workshops were held online throughout the year and included Writing, Drama Therapy, Art, Mindfulness, Yoga, Zumba, and more.
- Families gathered online to play virtual games including BINGO and trivia and participated in our inaugural COPEstock concert. Our families made strong connections with each other and raised sustaining funds to support those that will need us in the future.

Messages of Thanks from Our COPE Families:

- “When I lost my son Carmine at the tender age of 29, my world crashed. I thought I would go nuts. I found COPE and this group helped me cope with this unfathomable event. Through all the kind and unfortunate parents that attend these groups, I felt as if I was not alone, or like I was going crazy. I will forever be thankful for COPE.” – MG
- “Forever grateful for the opportunity afforded me and my grandchildren when they lost their mother and maternal uncle.” – RJ
- “It’s comforting to know that there is a place I can go where other people truly understand my pain.” – BC
- “COPE grief support meetings have been my lifesaver at a time when I felt singled out and devastated over the loss of my son. Meeting with other parents going through similar losses has helped me every single day to continue on this journey. Knowing that you are not alone and being able to talk about your feelings is something I will need to do for a very long time.” – SS
- “COPE literally saved my life. 6 years ago my son passed away suddenly. No warning. I was desperate for help. 2 years had passed and I was struggling immensely. By the Grace of God I found COPE. I am so grateful to all that work and volunteer at COPE.” – AC

A YEAR OF LOOKING TOWARD HOPE

COVID and social distancing placed significant hurdles and obstacles in our way. Despite that, COPE families, staff, volunteers, board members and donors stepped up and supported one another like never before. With your support, we were able to adapt our programs and continue providing valuable workshops and support groups for our families while adhering to CDC guidelines.

As always, we continued to work towards three core goals:

1. Increasing our impact for bereaved parents, siblings, children and families.
2. Strengthening our community and network of support.
3. Ensuring our financial sustainability so we can be here for the families that will need us tomorrow.

A YEAR OF LOOKING TOWARD HOPE

Koru Mindfulness - July 2020 with Barbara Fisher, PhD & Anthony Pantaleno, PhD

Family members joined online and learned how to more effectively manage stress and build and sustain their own meditation practice.

Signs & Synchronicities series - monthly with Lilly Julien

Anyone who has encountered a sign or message from their child, sibling or loved one joined together to attest to the existence of something greater than ourselves.

COPE Yoga - September 2020 with Amy Elias, MS

September is National Yoga Month and families joined for a day of restorative Yoga to honor the breath of life and to support COPE families.

COPEstock - October 2020

Parents, siblings and supporters gathered online for a night of live music and celebration. A group of diverse and talented musicians inspired, entertained and moved us, and all donations went directly to support COPE families.

Speaking Grief - November 2020

COPE families joined with the producers of Speaking Grief for a screening and conversation of this powerful film that explores the transformative experience of losing a family member in a death and grief avoidant society.

Worldwide Candle Lighting Day - December 2020

Each year we gather to honor the memories of the sons, daughters, brothers, sisters, and grandchildren who are never forgotten. We joined each other and connected online during this special virtual event.
